From One Colony to Six

The colony of New South Wales was established in 1788. Over the next 70 years, other colonies were created as more settlers arrived and spread across the continent.

Van Diemen's Land (later called Tasmania) became a separate colony in 1825. The Swan River Colony, which became Western Australia , was founded in 1829. South Australia was founded in 1836 as a free colony, which meant no convicts were sent there. Victoria separated from New South Wales in 1851, and Queensland followed in 1859.

Each colony had its own government, laws, stamps and even its own railway track widths, which made travel and trade between colonies difficult.
