Senior study targets

- Many schools suggest around 2–3 hours of study per subject per week outside class in senior years. Check your school's advice.
- Plan study straight after school or after a short break, before you get tired.
- Use one longer weekend block for practice exams or assignments.
- Review your timetable every Sunday and adjust it.

Work it out.

1. You study 5 subjects and aim for 2.5 hours per subject each week. How many hours is that?

2. Spread over 6 days, how much per day?
